The mutter is serious, chicky on two grounds. DISTURBANCE NEAR CANTON. A somewhat serious disturbance has occurred near the above place. As a conclusion to the races, a pienic party consisting of about fifty people, including H.B.M. Connul, the Commitner of Customs, and several ludies, proceedd to a place called Cum-aban (Silver Hill) about twenty miles up the river. It appears that the party went up in the Feeloons Chiziene gun-bost, on board of which there was a mundarin, and that another gun-boat accompanied them. There had been rumours beforehand to the effect that a boatile reception would be accorded to the party, and it seems that, acting upon this information. Commi Robertson bad caused the local officials to have placerds posted on the trees in the neighbourhood of the place that was to be visited, to the effect that foreigners were coming. with a peaceable object, and that the people should keep quiet. This, it was hoped; would be sufficient to avert any disturbilince, but three hopes proved vain. A mob of some two thousand people made their appearance, and, after using the customary insulting epithete, commenced to throw stones. The affair then began to ussume so dang rous an appearance that disoretion was considered the better part of valent, and a retreat was beaten to the Feeloons. Fortunately no one received any injury, bu there is no dieb; that their escape is attributable only to their getting away as quickly de perasible.

ENGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY, PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. Ast Anglo-Chinese Dictionart, by the Rev. W. LOBSCHEID, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

DOR scope and practical service this Work cises for students of a most instructive nature.

Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given, the seconts being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typegraphy displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vest economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vust margins and vacant spaces which have beretofore characterized Chinese publications; The scope of the work is so great, and its utilitarian purposes so complete, that a so-ference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chi Agents for the above Corporation, are ness.
